

4. Forgeland

4.1 Story Line

A good starting point is rift 8. After two walls climb up the statue and as usual look around. Fly down to the aim below. Here you find an Automaton, which is naturally Hephaestos. You get a chest and have to find the hands of Hephaestos. Look at the map. First is at the chest 4. You can get the chest and then reach the next hand. Return to Hephaestos and repair his hands. He makes a prediction. Ride in direction of the vents left of the forge. First (left) on is protected by some monsters. Done. Release the switch in the middle and use the vent to rise. The second vent is more protected. Two switches and the big block is behind a barrier. You only have to pull a block from back to the switch (you have the power?). Otherwise you have to clear the barrier. Up is ambrosia. Now fly to the water wheels in the east. On the northern wheel is one blocked wheel, southern one has two down on the east. Use the vents to fly to the forge. You have to light four ovens. Therefore throw a lighted coal ball in the oven. Right up the coal is down stairs in a hole. Jump down and get it. Light it on a fire pit. Now down the stairs to the next oven. Easy. Cross the place (with some bad guys). And then back up on the left side. All light, now you can go to the center. Left and right are the switches to open the ovens. On the right side you have to light the center and right the outer two. Outside waits Hephaestos. He repairs the anvil. A fight against Clanking Automaton Lieutenant follows (Smoldering Wings of Zeus) and if you use the forge in the background you have to fight agains Legendary Brute of Tartaros (Phosphor of Love Ablaze). Fly up to the top of the forge and imbue the hammer in the flames. Now you can open the way to Vault of Hephaestos. After the vault you find Hephaestos in the Hall of the Gods. After you recovered the god you have six aims on the map. Three aims are from the Forgelands, the rest are quest lines. Travel to the skeleton of the snake to reach Lieutenant Steropes (Sharp-Fire Wings). Here you also find the third part of Nike. Right down is a chest. Use the cube to block the lasers and put it on the switch and then a clone to open the chest (Skin of Fervid Pride).

Travel to the water wheels and fly south. Here you reach the next part of the quest of Phosphor. And find Godly GriffinLieutenant (Wings of Zeus). But before you can kill it, it disappears, but you get the next hint. If you go back to the forge and use it and get the visual Ruthless Hide of War. On the south east end of the land you find Lieutenant Brontes and get the Raveshing Wings. In the south east end is a chest and the mount Krystalline. Clean the aims and open the chest with the Olympian Key. Next aim is to find hope. It's in the south of the forge, behind a door. Klimb up the second from right and find a reacting door. Behind is after a fight the hope. Bring it back to Hephaistos in the Hall of the Gods, get the Helm of the Ethereal Automaton.
